

● Annual conference

Developing a scientific temper

Karnataka Science and Technology Academy and the Oxford College of Science had organised the seventh Annual KSTA conference

'Science, Technology and Productisation: A means for growth' recently. The valedictory function began by projecting 'Behind the Scenes', a proof to their determined and consistent team effort. The dignitaries were felicitated on the occasion. This was followed by lighting of the lamp and welcome address by Dr Bharthi. Gayathri Sudhir provided a glimpse of the past two days events of the INFORMED Dignitaries on the dais.

KSTA conference

There was a poster presentation by the delegates. Prof V Kaverujappa address the audience and praised the lectures. He added that the young scientists need to have an inquiring mind. He asked the young people to have patience and perseverance to achieve their goals.

This was followed by the distribution of the prizes for the winners of the poster competition. AM Ramesh proposed a vote of thanks.