

College hosts lecture series on sustainable development

The Oxford College of Science, in association with the Indian Science Congress Association, conducted a lecture series on science and technology for sustainable development with women empowerment to promote thinking on these issues among its students and faculty.

The general president of the association, Prof Vijay Laxmi Saxena, attended as the chief guest. The lecture series was also attended by prominent members of the association, including Prof KS Rangappa, Dr R Kavyashree, Prof Geetha Bali, Prof Ashok Kumar Saxena, Prof S Ramakrishna and Prof Gangadhar.

