Explaining Lab chemical safety by Dr. Chaithra M

The Training Program on Lab Safety & Storage of Chemicals held on 19 February 2026 in Room No. 218 was conducted under the DBT Star College Scheme. Organized by Dr. Chaithra M, Assistant Professor & Head I/C, Department of Chemistry, The Oxford College of Science, the session provided essential guidance on safe handling and proper storage of chemicals. With the active participation of 13 laboratory staff members, the program successfully enhanced awareness of safety practices and reinforced the importance of maintaining a secure laboratory environment. Overall, the training achieved its objective of strengthening safety culture, thanks to the effective coordination of Dr. Chaithra M.
