On November 11, 2024, the Department of Chemistry organized a workshop on General Laboratory Safety to raise awareness about essential safety protocols in scientific and educational laboratories. Led by Dr. Nebula Murukesh, the session covered key topics such as safety symbols, MSDS, emergency response, and proper handling of hazardous chemicals. Participants engaged in hands-on demonstrations, learning to use fire extinguishers, eyewash stations, and safety showers effectively. An interactive Q&A session allowed students to clarify doubts and discuss personal experiences related to lab safety. The workshop successfully enhanced participants' understanding of laboratory hazards, emergency procedures, and the importance of maintaining a safe lab environment.
