Event: INSTITUTIONAL VISIT TO INDIAN INSTITUTE OF HORTICULTURAL RESEARCH (IIHR), BANGALORE

Date & Time: - 24th September 2024

Venue: -Indian Institute of Horticultural Research (IIHR), Bangalore

This institutional visit was organized for final year BSc Zoology students. The Indian Institute of Horticultural Research (IIHR) in Bangalore is a premier research institute in India focused on the advancement of horticultural science and technology. Established in 1967 under the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), IIHR plays a crucial role in the development of horticultural crops, including fruits, vegetables, ornamental plants, medicinal plants, and mushrooms. In addition to research, IIHR actively collaborates with farmers and industry stakeholders, providing training and extension services that help improve horticultural practices and drive innovation across the sector.
